

Galactosemia and speech/development

(Compiled by Dr. Sue Berry)

1. Fishler K, Koch R, Donnell GN, Wenz E. Developmental aspects of galactosemia from infancy to childhood. Clin Pediatr (Phila) 1980; 19(1): 38-44.
2. Waisbren SE, Norman TR, Schnell RR, Levy HL. Speech and language deficits in early-treated children with galactosemia. J Pediatr 1983; 102(1): 75-7.
3. Waggoner DD, Buist NR, Donnell GN. Long-term prognosis in galactosemia: results of a survey of 350 cases. J Inherit Metab Dis 1990; 13(6):802-18.
4. Nelson CD, Waggoner DD, Donnell GN, Tuerck JM, Buist NR. Verbal dyspraxia in treated galactosemia. Pediatrics 1991; 88(2):346-50.
5. Schweitzer S, Shin Y, Jakobs C, Brodehl J. Long-term outcome in 134 patients with galactosaemia. Eur J Pediatr 1993; 152(1):36-43.
6. Kaufman FR, Reichardt JK, Ng WG, Xu YK, Manis FR, McBride-Chang C, Wolff JA. Correlation of cognitive, neurologic, and ovarian outcome with the Q188R mutation of the galactose-1-phosphate uridylyltransferase gene. J Pediatr 1994;125(2):225-7.
7. Kaufman FR, McBride-Chang C, Manis FR, Wolff JA, Nelson MD. Cognitive functioning, neurologic status and brain imaging in classical galactosemia. Eur J Pediatr 1995; 154(7): S2-5.
8. Nelson D. Verbal dyspraxia in children with galactosemia. Eur J Pediatr 1995; 154(7): S6-7.
9. Cleary MA, Heptinstall LE, Wraith JE, Walter JH. Galactosaemia: relationship of IQ to biochemical control and genotype. J Inherit Metab Dis 1995; 18(2): 151-2.
10. Hansen TW, Henrichsen B, Rasmussen RK, Carling A, Andressen AB, Skjeldal O. Neuropsychological and linguistic follow-up studies of children with galactosaemia from an unscreened population. Acta Paediatr 1996; 85(10):1197-201.
11. Manis FR, Cohn LB, McBride-Chang C, Wolff JA, Kaufman FR. A longitudinal study of cognitive functioning in patients with classical galactosemia, including a cohort treated with oral uridine. J Inherit Metab Dis 1997; 20(4): 549-55.
12. Robertson A, Singh RH, Guerrero NV, Hundley M, Elsas LJ. Outcomes analysis of verbal dyspraxia in classical galactosemia. Genet Med 2000; 2(2):142-148.
13. Waggoner MS, Diane D and Neil RM Buist, Long-term Complications in Treated Galactosemia. International Pediatrics, Vol. 8, No. 1, 1983" 97- 100.

Please feel free to also reference the Parents of Galactosemic Children's web page at

<http://www.galactosemia.org/speech>